ConsumerReports.org Electronic Resource

1. I want to buy a freezer. Does Consumer Reports test freezers on sale in Canada? If so, which ones are rated as Best Buys in the Self-defrost uprights category?
Yes, they do. The only one rated as a Best Buy in the Self-defrost uprights category is the Whirlpool EV161NZR. 868
2. When Consumer Reports test Gas Grills what do they look for (in other words what's behind how they come up with gas grill ratings)?
When testing gas grills, the Consumer Reports testers look for: Evenness; Grilling; Convenience; and, Quality of components.
3. I'm thinking about buying a point and shoot digital camera. I have narrowed my choices to a Panasonic Lumix DMC-FP1, a Nikon Coolpix S3000 or a Canon PowerShot A490. Did Consumer Reports rate any of these cameras as Recommended or Best Buys? If so, which one(s)?
The Panasonic Lumix DMC-FP1 is rated as Recommended and the Canon PowerShot A490 is a Best Buy.
4. Does Consumers Union, the group that publishes Consumer Reports, accept advertising or free samples (you might find this in the section about the Consumers Union mission)?
["To maintain its independence and impartiality, CU \[Consumers Union\] accepts no outside advertising and no free samples and employs several hundred mystery shoppers and technical experts to buy and test the products it evaluates."](#)
5. In the buying advice video for GPS equipment, what does Jeff Bartlett (Deputy Editor, Autos) recommend as the first feature to look for when buying a GPS device? Also, please list the steps you followed to find this video.
"First, you want one with a wide screen; for a broader view of maps that's much easier to read, a wide screen is a must."
There are several ways to find this video. Here are three possible paths.
  - a. Click on the GPS Heading under the Cars tab and then click on the Buying Guide button
  - b. Click on the GPS Heading under the Electronics tab and then click on the Buying Guide button
  - c. Type "GPS" into the search box, click on the search button and when the results page loads, click on the Buying Guide link on the new page.
