1. I want to buy a freezer. Does Consumer Reports test freezers on sale in Canada? If so, which ones are rated as Best Buys in the Self-defrost uprights category?
2. When Consumer Reports test Gas Grills what do they look for (in other words what's behind how they come up with gas grill ratings)?
3. I'm thinking about buying a point and shoot digital camera. I have narrowed my choices to a Panasonic Lumix DMC-FP1, a Nikon Coolpix S3000 or a Canon PowerShot A490. Did Consumer Reports rate any of these cameras as Recommended or Best Buys? If so, which one(s)?
4. Does Consumers Union, the group that publishes Consumer Reports, accept advertising or free samples (you might find this in the section about the Consumers Union mission)?
5. In the buying advice video for GPS equipment, what does Jeff Bartlett (Deputy Editor, Autos) recommend as the first feature to look for when buying a GPS device? Also, please list the steps you followed to find this video.
